

Marc Hyatt, July 28, 2011

A while back, Patrick of AxeGlove (www.AxeGlove.com), contributed an AxeGlove to a raffle I was involved in at Harmony Central Electric Guitars. So when I saw him at NAMM I introduced myself so we could put faces with our avatars. I also took the opportunity to take a look at the AxeGlove close up.

At first, I was kind of skeptical about the practical use of the product. But after getting one and putting it on one of my favorite guitars, my Les Paul Classic Gold Top, I totally get it. I have kids, and when I'm playing at home, especially with the toddler, he sometimes swings his toys at my guitar while I'm playing. The AxeGlove made me breathe a little easier. It also was really comfortable and did not hinder my playing or accessibility at all. If anything, it actually made my guitar more comfortable.

We spend a small fortune on our guitars, I highly recommend this small investment in helping take care of your guitar.

