LightWing Studios Announces AxeGlove® Generation III, AxeCap® And AxeShield® Models During Winter NAMM 2012

LightWing Studios today launched a major product line model expansion with the release of a new AxeGlove® Generation III Guitar Protection System as well as new AxeCap and AxeShield products during Winter NAMM 2012.

“We’re excited to be introducing a new models for Music Man Guitars and we now offer over 300 versions of our AxeGlove product . Our new AxeCap and AxeShield products further broaden the instrument protection options for all players. AxeCap is targeted at those players who display their guitars on wall hangers and mitigates the damage that occurs to the Headstock and Volute areas of the neck over time. AxeShield is an In Case Satin Guitar Shroud that prevents dust and dirt buildup on players’ instruments. We’re also very pleased to announce LightWing iPad, iPhone and Android Apps which are free to download from our website directly to customers Mobil Internet Devices.” said Patrick Pearce, President of LightWing Studios. “LightWing products are always customer and technology driven. Whether a player paid $300 or $30,000 for their instrument, we provide them with the same level of protection. We’re continuing the tradition of truly player inspired design with our new AxeCap and AxeShield products which are Made In America with 100% Green Materials.” said Chief Designer Lyuba Pearce.

AxeGlove is a complete, two (2) piece system which encompasses BOTH the neck and body of solid body electric guitars and basses, and is available in Six colors for both Right and Left Handed players. AxeCap is available in Six colors for both Right and Left Handed players. AxeShield is available in Five colors and Seven guitar case models with more configurations coming in the near future. All are designed to be used at Home, in the Studio or Live.

The custom, form fitting designs for each product line offer specific options for players to consider, and when combined, provide the Ultimate Guitar Protection System. AxeGlove and AxeCap are made from DOUBLE LAYER Cotton Flannel while AxeShield® is made from DOUBLE LAYER Cotton/Silk Satin. Since all our construction is from 100% Green Materials, finish protection is exceptionally safe, especially on Nitro Cellulose finishes and all are washable.

During Winter NAMM 2012, AxeGlove is $29.99, AxeCap is $12.99 and AxeShield is $17.99. All include FREE Worldwide Shipping. For more information, visit their website at www.AxeGlove.com.
